College Of Occupational Therapy Preceptorship Handbook

Read/Download

This clinical preceptor handbook is designed to provide guidelines to individuals responsible for the clinical education of occupational therapy students. It offers a structured approach to developing therapeutic goals for respiratory therapy, appropriate for patient care. The handbook also addresses the history of occupational contact with latex products, patients with eczema, fluid therapy, blood transfusion dynamics and calculations. It covers assessment, facility security, government regulations, and occupational health and safety, ensuring compliance with the College of Occupational Therapists' standards.

This handbook is designed for students, student coordinators, preceptors, and faculty. It offers role-emerging placements for occupational therapy students and provides access to registered occupational therapists who could provide off-site preceptorship. The handbook emphasizes behavior that is consistent with the College of Occupational Therapists' standards, offering a comprehensive guide for preceptorship.

Some of the key highlights include the Leicestershire Recovery College, who won not one but two awards, as part of Occupational Therapy (OT) Week. The college introduced a new preceptorship pathway & handbook to support preceptee's, occupational therapy private practice fieldwork placements, and to the College of Occupational Therapists of Ontario as private. Preceptorship can be a winning investment, providing valuable experience and training for students.

The handbook also acknowledges the significance of Psychotherapy Supervision, identifying it as a critical component in the training and development of occupational therapists. It is a resource that helps in the preparation of therapists to work effectively with clients and supports the overall quality of care provided.
